“ I remember meeting Alex and his family when he was a young boy at the baseball park. I remember always looking across to the other side of the church at St. Catherine's and seeing him for many, many years. He was a faithful servant. He always had a smile for everybody. God bless his family. Rest in peace, Alex.

“ Alex was one of my very first childhood friends. I remember playing football in the cul-de-sac in front of his house, and building forts in the woods behind it. So many memories of birthday parties, baseball games, and wrestling matches. I loved him like a brother, and even when we lost touch for a while, when we reconnected it was like we were kids again. He will be missed by everyone lucky enough to call him a friend. He will live on in my memories of him forever.

“ Alex was one of the greatest guys I know. I seen alex the saturday before his passing and even in his condition he was able to have a sense of humor. I asked alex why he was at urgent care and said to me, "I'm having trouble breathing, do you hear me? It sounds like I just ran around the track!" He remained funny and genuine till the end. I'm also upset because to weeks ago he broke his iPhone trying to help me and he didn't even break a sweat about it. Thanks alex and I'm sorry we didn't get to trade music. Miss you dearly I wish we had more time. Love you and just get some rest.
