“ The Carters were always a part of our lives in Arlington, GA. My mom and Julie's mom were best friends. My sister Kay (Sheppard) and Lynn were best friends. We shared church, community and school together. We were always at one another's house. My mom could get Julie and Lynn to eat a meal when their mom could not. We valued each other's opinions on clothes and other things. We were like sisters. Our older sister babysat us all , too. My dad always asked them in what county they got up!! Their first house actually was split by county lines. In recent years I shared with Julie on FB and Caringbridge. She was always concerned with her family. And she always gave her battle to God. What an inspiration -- what a legacy!!! My prayers are with Leah and Ed as the carry on her life lessons. God bless “ Julie was an inspiration to all. Christ's love radiated through her entire being. She always had a sweet smile every time we saw her. Ed and Leah, please know how much we care and really want to be here for you! Sarah and George Davis

“ I grew up with Julie in Arlington. Lynn was my very best friend. Julie was our tag-a-long. Lynn and I "met" when we were 3 years old. Too little to pronounce a "J" we called Julie "Dooly". I spent many days and nights at the Carter household. My heart bleeds for the pain and grief that Ed and Leah are and have been going through. My prayers and love are with you. There is a celebration in heaven with Lynn and Mr. Julian. We all have faith that we will join that celebration one day. Julie touched many lives. She and Lynn sang at my wedding. Thank you, Julie, for being a part of my life!
