I can remember when Dick was barely able to get around, and I would still see him at Sunday Mass at Transfiguration. He was always cheerful despite the many pains and difficulties

I will miss you dad everyday for the rest of my life. You were an amazing person, role model and example to me of how to live a good life. My world will never be the same without you. I love you dearly.

Such a gracious man, even when I repeatedly called him by another name. He would smile in that cute manner of his and quietly correct me but only after just one too many occasions. Sweet memory.
