“ It takes a village to raise a child and I was honored for her to be a part of the village that raised me! She poured so much love, encouragement, confidence into me as a young child that it has made me a better adult. She gave me some of my very first jobs: rinsing/drying dinner dishes (after eating yummy cornbread); watering flowers; working in the garden (playing in dirt), shelling peas (was we watched As the World Turns) for many years. I had a "job" every day of some kind that she did WITH ME and had the best form of payment - $.25-$.50 a job OR an almost empty compact makeup or lipstick container that gave me just enough makeup or lipstick to "look like her". The one that always let us neighbor kids ring the doorbell TWO times a day for a cookie!! She also listened to me about all my boy crazy stories of who all I was going to kiss and marry and she was so happy when I did find the love of my life. I always knew to look for her on the back row of the church each Sunday!! I am a better person because of my Aunt Kate and love her dearly! (Uncle CJ was in on the village as well!! He built me a special two step stool when it was time for me to graduate from "drying dishes" to "rinsing dishes"! ) Until we see each other again....I have always and will forever cherish the precious memories of my childhood!
